Book Description

This is a translation in Modern Greek of a pioneering study on Greek-language newspapers in Romania during the 19th century that was originally published in Romanian (Presa de limbă greacă din România în veacul al XIX-lea, Bucarest 1995). The book draws on hitherto unstudied material from Romanian libraries and addresses ideological fermentations during the last decades of the nineteenth century with particular reference to the Greek communities in Romania. As the author notes, a history of these communities remains to be written.
